Mom gets nobody now. But does she? She doesn't. Always feels she silently understands. But wrong too. Mom gets nothing at all. "Love, all misspent. Thanks for trying." Is it bad how saying that eliminates love? Mistaken, have we? Mothers. They didn't also value our worlds, these changed times. Wow! Times changed. These worlds, our value also! Didn't they? Mothers, we have mistaken. Love eliminates that saying how bad it is. Trying for 'thanks'? Misspent all love, all at nothing? Gets mom too wrong. But understands, silently. She feels, always, doesn't she? She does. But now, nobody gets mom.
