

Always was a coo coo in the nest
Yeah brutally depressed
Tryna fit in with 'em all that I was doing is pretend
My little thinker heading towards a new imprisonment
Till a rhythm hit it and I found this music in my flesh
Doodling my thoughts, saw them blooming on the page
Found the beauty in the mess, way to communicate express
Illuminate affect, what I do I do my best
Any doubts in your head I'ma put em all to death
Went to uniquely great from the utility grade
Because I scrutinized my pain instead of being gloomy and so stressed
My stupidest regrets I soothingly embraced
Spread my wings now I'm a coo coo out the nest

Everybody got pain, everybody got woes
Everybody got scars that ain't nobody knows
Everybody suffers but to be the coo coo outta nest you gotta spread your wings and you gotta let go

Always was a coo coo in the nest
With that lurid luminance
Tryna blend a little steady sitting chewing on my nails
And my cerebellum steady tryna look right through the veil
But the rhythm hit it, in a minute took me out the maze
Through predicaments, all the numerous attempts
Worked on what I dreamt to the fullest of extent

Maneuvered to the crest, all the rules I went against Used what I was dealt else I could've been like rest
Now being true to what I tell is my duty to myself
All the views that I attest leaving studio in flames
In the air I've soared, so this dude ain't leaving yet
Spread my wings, now I'm a coo coo out the nest

May sound a lil foolish in a sense
But I'd rather die than live with a ludicrous pretence
I'ma do me, cuz I know I'm different

Everybody got pain, everybody got woes
Everybody got scars that ain't nobody knows
Everybody suffers but to be the coo coo outta nest you gotta spread your winga and you gotta
let go

Cuz it's never about the super intellect neither proving that you're best
It's about doing what you want, it's about moving at your pace
It's pursuing interest, it's about what you represent
Making sure your soul is happy and not smothered in your flesh